West Invites Soviet To Geneva For Meet

Dulles Doubts Talks Will Ease Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France formally proposed to Russia Monday that the Big Four heads of government meet at Geneva for four days beginning July 18.

Even as the joint note went out, Secretary of State Dulles said he is doubtful that the "meeting at the summit" will relax dangerous international tensions.

"For some time," Dulles declared, the United States must "live as a nation that is imperiled."

Western powers had said earlier they would be willing to meet at Geneva, despite previous U. S. objections to that site because it stands as a symbol of the Indo-Chinese truce, which the United States opposed.

In Monday's formal invitation, the three Western governments said they now proposed Geneva as the site for the conference "in the light of divergent views with respect to where the meeting might be held."

Russia had suggested Vienna as the meeting place and the West in turn had proposed Lausanne, Switzerland. In formally proposing Geneva as a compromise choice, "there are excellent facilities for a meeting of this importance" in the Swiss city, which has been host to numerous international meetings.

"An early reply would be very much appreciated in order to permit the necessary arrangements to be made with the government of Switzerland, which has informed the three governments that the holding of such a meeting in Geneva on the dates set forth above is agreeable," the note added.

A few hours earlier, the State Department announced Dulles will meet with the British and French foreign ministers in New York for two days beginning June 16, to help prepare for the long-awaited Big Four session.

The conference will bring together President Eisenhower and the Premiers of Russia, Britain and France.

Addressing University of South Carolina commencement exercises, Dulles said he hopes the meeting will be "useful. Surely the United States will do all in its power to make it so."

However, after noting that Soviet rulers have described the conference as "designed to relax international tensions," Dulles asserted:

"But I am doubtful about the 'relaxing' part of the Soviet formula."

Pro-Western Party Makes Gains In Sicily's Election

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba's pro-western Christian Democrat party marked up a big gain Monday night in complete returns from Sicily's regional assembly elections.

The Christian Democrats, facing their biggest test since the 1953 Italian general election, captured seven new seats in the island's semi-autonomous Assembly. They had 30 seats in the old 90-seat Assembly. The Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists were held to their previous strength—30 seats.

The Christian Democrats registered their big gains in Monday's voting at the expense of the neo-Fascists and the minor center parties.

American influence played a part in the campaign in this industrially retarded island, where almost everybody has a relative in the United States.

In the last days before the elections, the United States poured in millions of dollars of economic aid via Rome. Thousands of immigrant Sicilian residents of the United States and their descendants wrote the old folks back home urging them to turn down communism. While the percentage of the Red vote remains about the same as last time, the Western-minded Christian Democrats, backers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, emerge considerably stronger.

CHILE SEEKS BIG LOAN

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chile is seeking an eight million dollar credit from the U. S. government to buy cotton. Sergio Bustamante, president of the National Institute of Commerce, will leave for Washington Thursday.

Steelworkers Bid For Substantial Wage Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers, "unanimously determined to achieve a substantial wage increase" and a "peaceful settlement," open wage talks Tuesday with a busy and profitable steel industry.

The big union starts negotiations with U. S. Steel Corp. and expects to begin talks with five other big steel producing firms immediately afterward.

Adenauer Adds His Power To Drive To Arm Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reshuffled his cabinet Monday to put more power behind the drive to raise West German defense forces.

The 79-year-old chancellor gave up his second post as foreign minister and added a defense minister to the cabinet.

Adenauer wanted to reduce his work load to supervise personally the complicated—and controversial—work of Parliament in creating armed forces for the western defense lineup. He wants to insure that the armed forces remain under parliamentary control and do not again become the means to power of a military caste.

Adenauer called on President Theodor Heuss and offered his resignation from the Foreign Ministry. The President's office announced the chancellor proposed his Christian Democratic Party leader, Heinrich von Brentano, 50, as his successor and recommended the promotion of Defense Commissioner Theodor Blank, 49, to be Bonn's first defense minister. They are to be sworn in Wednesday.

Afterward Adenauer predicted the first West German soldiers will be in uniform in the late fall. Through recruiting and conscription, a half million men are to be called to the colors.

Clear Million CCs Salk Polio Vaccine For Distribution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said Monday that about one million cubic centimeters of Salk Polio vaccine manufactured by Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, has been cleared for distribution.

That amount would be enough for about one million shots of the vaccine.

The announcement was made in response to an inquiry as to when additional vaccine manufactured by Lilly might be released.

The company said on Friday that it had 1 1/2 million shots ready plus one million more on which it had sent precise scientific data to the Public Health Service.

The statement, given out by the Health and Welfare Department, merely said:

"Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele of the Public Health Service confirmed today that approximately one million cubic centimeters of poliovirus vaccine manufactured by the Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, has been cleared for distribution."

"This vaccine met the retesting procedures for vaccine which has already been produced as set forth by the technical advisory committee on poliovirus vaccine established by the surgeon general."

When asked what was the status of the remainder of the vaccine which Lilly had said was ready, a spokesman said there was no information available on additional lots.

Certified Mail Service Starts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department put its new certified mail service into formal operation Monday. It is a cheaper and simpler form of registered mail.

For 15 cents, plus regular postage, the Post Office will make a record of the delivery of certified mail. The records will be kept available for six months, in case the sender needs to establish proof of delivery.

On registered mail, the fee begins at 30 cents. The sender automatically gets a receipt of delivery, and his mail is kept under guard. Certified mail will not be guarded.

The new plan is intended to use registered mail service for items of real value; certified mail will be for items not having actual monetary value.

Ike At West Point Reminisces On Big Day In His Life

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower marched, dined and reminisced happily with fellow West Point alumni Monday on the 11th anniversary of "a big day in my life"—the 1944 Normandy invasion.

Back at the United States Military Academy for a reunion with his classmates of 1915 and to deliver the commencement address to this year's graduates tomorrow, the President also took part in solemn ceremonies honoring the West Point dead.

Then he and his fellow alumni of many academy classes reviewed the Corps of Cadets as they marched by in the warm, brilliant sunlight which bathed the Plain, the historic parade ground. After the review Eisenhower walked across the street to the home of Lt. Gen. Blackshear Bryan, the academy superintendent, where he told two cadets:

"You know, this is a big day in my life. June 6 is D-Day, the day we attacked across the (English) channel, and my son graduated from West Point that same day."

His son is Army Maj. John Eisenhower, now stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., and soon to take up a new post at Ft. Belvoir, Va., a few miles from Washington.

Break In Britain's Railway Strike Appears Possible

LONDON (AP)—A break in Britain's stalemate nine-day old railway strike appeared possible Monday night under a peace plan laid down by the giant Trades Union Congress.

Under the plan, the rival railway unions were called upon to smooth over their own differences paving the way for direct talks with the British Transport Commission which runs the trains.

Leaders of TUC, who have been working closely with Prime Minister Eden said they would suggest he allow the commission to negotiate while the strike was still on, once the rail unions bury their own feuds.

Sixty-seven thousand locomotive engineers and firemen are striking for pay raises to give them a wider differential over other grades of rail workers.

TUC suggested the strikers of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen begin negotiations with the Transport Commission right away with understanding other rail workers represented by the National Union of Railwaymen would be consulted before a settlement was reached.

Eden has expressed fears rivalry between the unions would lead to an "endless succession" of demands for pay increases.

The turn in the rail strike came as Britain's industrial strife carried clear across the Atlantic to upset holiday plans of thousands of dollar-spending Americans counting on a vacation in Europe.

Two Guards Hurt In Prison Riot

IONIA, Mich. (AP)—Four armed convicts injured two guards and seized two employees as hostages in a short-lived uprising at Ionia State Reformatory Monday.

The institution has 1,000-plus inmates. Guard Justin Wright, 51, cracked over the head with an iron bar.

He was in serious condition at an Ionia hospital. Guard Ernest Chase, 63, was able to return to duty after first aid for his injuries.

Warden Garrett Heyns said the four convicts started a ruckus in their cells high in the prison, and that when Wright went to investigate he was struck with the iron bar.

Chase, who followed Wright in, was attacked in turn.

Then the convicts got Wright's keys, left the guards, and made their way to a storeroom on the ground floor. There, armed with two knives and a pair of scissors, they grabbed storekeepers Jerry Cusack and John Hayden.

Giving Up Cigarettes May Lessen Risk Of Getting Lung Cancer, Doctors Report

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Give up cigarettes, and you probably cut your risk of getting lung cancer, the American Cancer Society's top statisticians declared Monday.

This is indicated by the latest figures in the society's study of about 190,000 men and their smoking habits, said Drs. E. Cuyler Hammond and Daniel Horn.

Among some 25,000 ex-smokers, the lung cancer death rate in the last three years was only half as high as among men who kept smoking cigarettes, they find. The death rate among the ex-smokers still was 14 times higher, though, than among men who had never smoked.

"It seems probable that even after years of regular cigarette smoking, giving up the habit may result in a reduction in the risk of developing lung cancer," Drs.

Hammond and Horn told the American Medical Assn. But they declared more cases are needed and must be studied before it can be said to be "proven beyond reasonable doubt" that quitting reduces the chances of developing cancer.

The Hammond-Horn report a year ago covered 20 months and about 5,000 deaths. Monday's report covers 32 months and more than 8,000 deaths.

Big Three, UN Work To Ease Tension On Egypt-Israeli Border

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States, Britain and France worked with the U.N. Monday to calm the dangerous situation along the Egyptian-Israeli border.

Informed quarters said the three Western Powers acted through their separate diplomatic channels in contacting Egyptian and Israeli authorities. They also endorsed an appeal sent last Friday by Dag Hammarskjöld to Egypt and Israel urging them to use restraint.

While this diplomatic activity went on, firing broke out again on the desert Gaza strip, where the troubled line runs between Egypt and Israel. No one was hurt in three hours of firing Sunday but a U.N. observer checking on the shooting had to take cover from Israeli bullets.

The Egyptian War Office said six Israeli armed cars and trucks opened fire on two Egyptian outposts near the demarcation line. The Israelis in Jerusalem accused the Egyptians of firing first.

Hammarskjöld made known his deep concern over the Gaza situation at his news conference last Thursday. He told correspondents he was working through his contacts in the Middle East with both sides in an attempt to restore calm. He said the time has not come for direct peace talks.

Hammarskjöld disclosed he had sent Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of staff of the Truce Supervisory Organization in Palestine, to Cairo to see Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser. Nasser was quoted by the Egyptian Press as telling Burns it would mean war if the Israelis attempted to seize the Gaza strip held by Egypt.

The Egyptian War Office apparently tried to dispel any idea Nasser was threatening war. After the press comments appeared, it announced that Nasser revived during his conference with Burns his plan for a demilitarized zone to be set up on the border. Israel has refused to accept it.

Premier U Nu on Burma departed from Israel by plane for Belgrade after offering to mediate between Israel and the Arab states if requested by both sides. No request has been made public. It was recalled that he went to Israel after Cairo suggested he bypass the U.N. Security Council this month. He had no comment but it is known he, Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain and Henri Hoppenot, of France, are seriously concerned at the continuing crisis in Palestine. The Soviet delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, had no comment.

Funds To Step Up B52 Bomber Production Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson asked Congress Monday for an additional 356 million dollars to step up U. S. production of the B52 intercontinental bombers, and still more millions for research in the arms race with Russia.

The requests were submitted at a closed door meeting with the Senate Appropriations subcommittee handling money bills for the armed forces, and announced by Sen. Chavez (D-NM), the chairman. Wilson refused to comment as he left the meeting.

The Pentagon already has announced it plans a 35 percent increase in the rate of production of the big long range bombers, capable of hauling atomic bombs on round trip intercontinental missions, but the planned figures are a closely guarded secret.

The stepup program came on the heels of debate in this country on whether Russia has overhauled, or is threatening to catch up, in the race for air superiority. Chavez told reporters he believes Congress will provide the requested funds.

Wilson was accused of refusing to represent Charles Sleszer, a defendant in a grand larceny case, when the case was called for trial on May 2, May 3 and May 11. Wilhelm contended he never agreed to take the case.

He was given until July 26 to file a bill of exception to the contempt conviction and his bond was set at $2,500.

La Salle Lawyer Sentenced For Contempt Of Court

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—Taylor W. Wilhelm, La Salle County state's attorney from 1942-46, was sentenced to 30 days in the La Salle County jail Monday for contempt of court.

Circuit Judge Robert E. Larkin, who passed sentence, also recommended that a report of Wilhelm's activities be referred to the grievance committee of the Illinois Bar Assn.

Wilhelm was accused of refusing to represent Charles Sleszer, a defendant in a grand larceny case, when the case was called for trial on May 2, May 3 and May 11. Wilhelm contended he never agreed to take the case.

He was given until July 26 to file a bill of exception to the contempt conviction and his bond was set at $2,500.

German - born Ludwig Marcel Baron, 40, was brought to trial here when one of his victims, Sue Ann Bogard, of Bloomington, Ill., filed a suit against him. In a written statement read to the court, she said he swindled her out of $655 after promising to marry her.

The indictment said Baron met Miss Bogard, reportedly employed by U. S. forces in Germany, while she was vacationing in Austria. He represented himself as an American named Michael Calder.

When Miss Bogard did not hear from him for two months, she set police on his trail. He was arrested by Austrian police, who said Baron had two forged American passports and about $10,000 on him.

The indictment said that the money had been given him by Agnes France, described as a 63-year-old American brewery owner. Her address was not disclosed. Baron, who pleaded guilty, said he was a "good friend" of Charles "Lucky" Luciano and the late Al Capone.

Establish $55 Million Fund To Pay Workers

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. Monday broke ground in American industry for the guaranteed wage plan in a history-making strike settlement pact with Walter Reuther's CIO United Auto Workers Union.

The plan calls for the company to establish a 55 million dollar fund during a three-year contract period to finance payments to workers idled from their jobs, supplementing state unemployment compensation benefits.

The historic agreement was reached at mid-day, after all-night bargaining sessions, with about half of Ford's 140,000 workers on strike. They began the walkout after Sunday night's midnight expiration of Ford's prior five-year contract.

The settlement brought quick back-to-work orders from the union, and the men responded by returning to their jobs. Some stayed away, however, in apparent celebration of the agreement, after a huge mass meeting outside the huge Rouge plant, largest in the Ford empire, at Dearborn, Mich.

Ford's guaranteed wage plan represents a compromise. It supplements state jobless payments for only a 26-week period, or half a year, compared with Reuther's original demand for a full annual pay guarantee for laid-off workers.

Neither are the company payments as high as Reuther wanted. He held out for combined company and state payments aggregating 80 percent of a worker's take-home pay. The final deal called for an aggregate of 60 to 65 per cent.

However, both Reuther and John S. Bugas, Ford vice president for industrial relations, hailed the plan as an important new idea for safeguarding the income security of workers.

Bugas said Ford agreed to pioneer the idea only "after a great internal debate" within the company and a final realization that "we had some special responsibilities to our employees."

Employers have been solidly resisting union demands for guaranteed wage plans and the Ford contract represents the first major employer concession in their regard.

Reuther immediately laid plans to press for similar settlement terms at the giant General Motors Corp. as a first step toward spreading the guaranteed wage plan throughout the auto industry and to other mass production industries with CIO unions. Reuther also heads the CIO.

There were hints, however, that GM may resist despite a strike deadline at midnight Tuesday. A top union official said that GM has made no guaranteed wage plan offer of any kind in separate bargaining sessions.

This official, asked how far he felt GM had to go to achieve a strike-averting agreement, replied: "They've got all the way to go."

Bugas said Ford's willingness to accept the guaranteed wage plan represented a considered decision, after three years of preparing for contract talks.

Accuse Peorian Of Living High On Embezzled Funds

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A 29-year-old office manager, who police said took off for vacation in a new Cadillac, and sporting a large diamond ring, was accused Monday of embezzling $30,000 from his employers.

William Dewey, an officer of W. W. Dewey & Sons Inc., a grain brokerage firm, signed a complaint against Bernard L. Harmon, Claude Warner, investigator for the Peoria Credit Bureau, said Harmon's employers became suspicious of Harmon's expensive possessions when he turned up at the office to say goodbye at the start of his vacation three weeks ago.

They audited his books and had him arrested when he returned Monday.

Warner said Harmon issued 30 company checks to himself averaging $1,000 each from May 1953 to February 1955.

The investigator said Harmon, a bachelor, spent large sums furnishing his apartment elaborately and in entertaining.

Editorial Comment

FIRM BUT NOT OBSTINATE

Secretary of State Dulles must be weary of getting advice on how to deal with the Russians at a four-power conference. But it's just possible that when German Chancellor Adenauer comes over in mid-June he may have some wise counsel to offer.

Reports from Bonn suggest that Adenauer will advise the United States not to be too ready to make a broad European settlement with the Kremlin. In his view the West is getting stronger and the East weaker. He feels that if the West will be patient another year or two it can get far better terms from the Reds than in 1955.

There appears to be a good deal of evidence to support this approach. Russia's failure to develop adequate farm production is well known. Its decision earlier this year to renew emphasis on heavy industry at the expense of consumer goods output cannot have eased the Kremlin's domestic political problems.

As has been fairly said many times, we cannot refuse to sit down with the Soviet Union when there seems any hope at all it might open the way to an eventual lasting settlement.

But we need not fall all over ourselves simply because the Reds feel like talking. We know enough about them by now to realize they would not suggest such a course if they did not think there was advantage in it for them.

Elements in Britain, France and elsewhere, naively pre-occupied with the top level conference as a device for securing peace, will be pressing their governments to insist that we take just about anything the Kremlin offers. They are always prepared to accept Russia's overtures on faith and to regard the United States with suspicion. These urgings must be resisted.

So much of the time the Russians are in a menacing mood that there is a tendency to welcome their softer gestures with uncritical enthusiasm. A feeling of relief sweeps over even cagey diplomats. They're so eager to capitalize on the altered Russian mood that they don't drive the hardest bargain they could.

The Berlin blockade negotiations were a good example. We got the blockade lifted all right, but there was later evidence we could well have won some additional concessions had we been tougher at the time.

No one dares pretend that it is easy for the West — and America particularly — to strike just the right posture in any dealings with Moscow. But somehow we must find the way to be firm without being blind and obstinate.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The oddity almanac:

Feel sorry for yourself? Here's some advice from Helen Keller, who will be 76 years old this month:

"I often feel deeply grieved for those who suffer from self-sympathy. They allow themselves to be tied in a knot instead of looking around for new things to keep them busy. I find life an exciting business—and most exciting when it is lived for others."

Miss Keller, who lost the powers of sight, speech and hearing in infancy, became one of the most inspiring examples of victory over personal handicaps in human history. A famous author, teacher, and speaker, she mastered seven languages, found her own road to happiness.

At 74 she made a 40,000 mile tour in behalf of the world's 14 million blind people. Still busy with new projects to aid the handicapped, she says:

"When people say I ought to retire, it makes me mad."

Still feel sorry for yourself?

Passing the time can get to be quite a problem with a modern company executive, who may spend up to six months or a year on the road.

To foil boredom, Harry Roink, a hat firm president from Garland, Tex., kept a diary of his activities in five years of train travel. The diary shows (he says) that in those five years he opened a train window unaided 88 times; read 113 books; counted 9,516 telephone poles; completed 93 crossword puzzles and left 184 unfinished; wrote 11 poems, 7 of which he tore up because he didn't like the rhymes; played 318 games of solitaire (he lost 290 times, cheated 8 times); and ate 804 sandwiches.

Almanac editorial: A Senate subcommittee recently announced it would launch an inquiry to find out why so many poor people remain poor.

A member of this almanac's staffs, seeking a quick answer to this problem, interviewed a number of poor people hanging out in a nearby pool room, and came up with this report:

"Four out of five said they remained poor because, unlike Congress, they lacked the power to vote themselves a 50 per cent increase in salary whenever funds sank low in their piggy banks."

Perhaps Congress in the course of its inquiry can also investigate another matter: Why some poor legislators remain poor—instead of getting better.

(Editor's Note: Opinions expressed in Boyle's almanac editorials do not necessarily reflect the views of this paper, Boyle himself or Marilyn Monroe, so far as we can determine.)

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

There Are Several Causes And Varieties of Anemia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A correspondent writes that she is frequently troubled with low hemoglobin and that she would welcome a discussion of what this means. No doubt many others have a similar difficulty so that some understanding of anemia should be of wide interest.

What is anemia? The most important thing about it is that this is not a single disease and there are several possible causes and several varieties. In any form of anemia, however, there are a lessened number of red blood cells or hemoglobin (which is the coloring matter of the blood), or both. It is not sufficient to measure the hemoglobin alone or the red cells alone but both must be studied and frequently other tests undertaken as well.

Generally Speaking there are about four and one-half or five million red blood cells in each cubic mm. of blood, (this is an extremely small amount since there are more than 16,000 cubic mm. in a cubic inch.) The red blood cells contain oxygen and hemoglobin, both of which are necessary to maintain health and life.

One kind of anemia is known as primary or pernicious anemia. The cause of this condition is complicated but now it can be successfully treated in almost all cases.

With The Exception of pernicious anemia, the problem boils down to finding out what has caused the reduction in red blood cells or hemoglobin. One of the most simple and yet frequent causes is bleeding from somewhere in the body. If a person loses more blood than the system can replace, anemia develops. If the bleeding is sudden such as from a cut, the difficulty can be remedied promptly by stopping the hemorrhage and giving a blood transfusion.

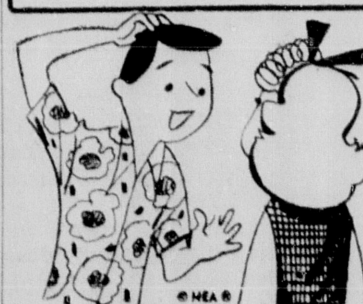

If hemorrhage is slow, it is necessary to find where the bleeding comes from and to stop it if possible. When this so-called secondary anemia is severe it may be necessary to give transfusions.

Another Kind Of anemia is fairly frequent in women between 30 and 50 years of age. The cause of this anemia is a deficiency of iron probably resulting from defective diet and poor absorption due to disturbance of the stomach and intestines. This causes a feeling of weakness, shortage of breath, nervous disturbances, dry hair, sore tongue and paleness. Fortunately, once it has been identified, it can be successfully treated by giving iron preparations.

Anemia may result from the failure of the organs which make the blood to manufacture adequate quantities. Here the difficulty lies principally in the bone marrow and is much like the anemia which comes from certain poisons. These are only a few of the many forms of anemia.

Lowered levels of red blood cells or hemoglobin means something seriously wrong. A person with severe anemia feels poorly and lack of energy. The cause should be tracked down and appropriate treatment employed as rapidly as possible.

U. S. Had No Legal Right To Handle Polio Vaccine

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The question most frequently asked in connection with the Salk polio vaccine mixup is why the U.S. government did not step in earlier to control its distribution?

The argument is advanced that if this had been done, all the confusion of the last two months would have been avoided.

The first answer given to this question is that the federal government has no legal power to control distribution. That is why the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has now asked Congress for new authority in this field.

Under the bill introduced by Rep. J. Percy Priest (D-Tenn.), whenever the secretary of this department finds it necessary to protect the health of the American people the distribution of any serum or toxin may be put under government control.

The Priest bill would also tighten up the department's existing Public Health Service authority to license and set standards of manufacture for all vaccines.

IT WAS UNDER the limited authority now held by PHS that Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele on April 27 ordered the Cutter Laboratories to withdraw their polio vaccine. This was after the first six cases of polio were reported in children inoculated with the Cutter vaccine.

When Dr. Scheele on May 8 decided that all inoculations should be suspended, all he could do was recommend that this be done. He had no legal authority to order it.

Most of the states complied with his recommendation but a few continued their inoculations on their own responsibility.

This loophole shows the need for passage of a new law, giving the Secretary of Health more authority. To blame all the past mixup over the inoculation program on Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby was therefore hardly fair.

The responsibility for such actions as the department did take was Secretary Hobby's. Like the newspaper editor which she is, she blue-penciled and finally approved every announcement that her department put out on this situation.

But all she could really do was act on the recommendations of Surgeon General Scheele, her legal counsel and Dr. Chester S. Keefer, her American Medical Association adviser on health affairs.

IN THE END it was Dr. Scheele who had to make all the tough decisions. He acted on each move only after the fullest consultations with medical scientists, manufacturers of the vaccine and the government experts in the Biological Control Laboratory of the National Health Institute.

Decisions to allow distribution of the polio vaccine through normal channels of the drug trade and the medical profession on a voluntary compliance basis were in line with normal practice. There are no government controls over the distribution of smallpox vaccine, diphtheria antitoxin or any other such preparations.

The government does not even test all the serums itself. It merely checks the protocols, or records of tests made by the manufacturers. Use of all drugs is entirely in the hands of the individual doctors who administer them.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT FACTOR in the government's refusal to assume responsibility for distribution of the polio vaccine was that it had no money to finance the venture. An act of Congress and months would have been required to recruit a staff and build up an organization to handle distribution.

As a matter of hindsight the government may be open to some criticism on this score. This year's great demand for what was last year an unproven vaccine was not for an.

Congress was not asked for additional appropriations last year to handle this work.

As a matter of fact both the Budget Bureau and Congress cut PHS appropriations from the original amounts requested by Dr. Scheele for his operations.

The whole polio vaccine distribution job was therefore left to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It financed the research which developed the vaccine. It was willing and eager to handle distribution. But the job was too big and the voluntary agency machinery broke down.

That is why the Eisenhower administration has now gone to Congress asking for an additional 20 million dollars for this work. "This is for grants to the states, whose own health departments would administer distribution."

The money would pay for the vaccine for all children under 20 years of age and provide free inoculations for the children whose families could not afford to pay for them. This would be the limit of U. S. government control.

Weight Control Is Vital For Middle-Aged Happiness

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Life can begin at 40 for middle-aged women. Catherine MacFarlane, M.D., research professor of gynecology at Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, urges women in the middle years to maintain "correct" weight or slightly below it if they wish to enjoy maximum health, strength, good figures, and ease in getting around.

About 35 per cent of women in middle years are obese. There is a tendency for obesity to accompany the glandular changes of menopause. Dr. MacFarlane warns middle-aged women to control their weight by diet and regular but moderate exercise in the fresh air.

Dr. Pearl Swanson, professor of nutrition at Iowa State College, points out that overnutrition in middle years tends to be associated with accident proneness, poor surgical risks, a higher incidence of gall bladder and diabetes and is related to heart diseases.

Other nutritionists and physicians also urge moderation in eating for healthy, happy middle age. They all believe a good breakfast is essential, one that includes about 1 of the day's food.

When a woman eats an adequate balanced breakfast, such as fruit, cereal with milk, bread, butter or margarine and a beverage, she will be less tempted to overeat during the day. The habit of going without breakfast is a health hazard.

Here's a balanced, 400-calorie breakfast of the middle-aged. The family can add whole milk, butter, and a second muffin or an egg to make the calories adequate for the children—and father, too, if he is not reducing.

Breakfast: Fresh blueberries (1 cup), ready-to-eat oat cereal (1 ounce), sugar (1 teaspoon), skim milk (8 ounces), crunchy wheat muffins with sweet tops (1), coffee, black.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, roast young chicken, riblet gravy, parried new potatoes, green beans, enriched bread, butter or margarine, strawberries, light cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Husbands Can Test Selves With This Short Quiz

This test is for husbands. If your wife isn't feeling well when you leave home in the morning, do you telephone home during the day to ask how she is feeling?

Do you even once or twice a year ask your wife to meet you for lunch when you know she is going to be downtown?

If your wife looks worried or upset do you ask what the trouble is? Or are you afraid that if you ask she will tell you?

If you hear an interesting bit of news do you tell it to your wife the first chance you get? Or do you wait until you are in a crowd and let her overhear you telling it to someone else?

If you have an important decision to make do you discuss it with your wife in advance? Do you give her enough background so that she understands what your problem is, instead of letting her hear about it after you have made your decision?

HOW ABOUT CRUMPLED FENDER? If your wife asks your help in some problem that concerns her, do you take it seriously enough to really try to be of some help? Or do you dismiss it with an irritated, "Can't you figure that out for yourself?"

If your wife gets a crumpled fender on the family car, do you treat it like an accident that could have happened to anyone, even you, instead of assuming that it was entirely her fault?

When your wife is dressed to go to a party and obviously isn't very happy about the way she looks do you tell her how pretty she looks?

Don't dismiss these questions lightly. The way you answer them may not mean much to you. But whether or not you give a "Yes" or "No" answer means a lot to your wife.

HOTTEST-SELLING BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—capping the popularity that has already moved Buick into the top circle of America's best sellers. Come try one—and price it—and you'll see why Buick sales are soaring.

Buick ROADMASTER
2-Door, 6-Passenger Riviera, Model 76R

It's steady as you glow

(No wonder Buick's ride is the envy of the Industry)

You may not be aware of it right away.

The sheer joy of driving a new Buick for the first time can easily overshadow a lot of other great things about this automobile.

But once you get past the thrill of Buick's dazzling getaway response and instant acceleration—once you get an idea of what record-high V8 power and Variable Pitch Dynaflo® can do for split-second performance when you need it—then you'll begin to notice this Buick's ride.

It's different—wonderfully different. It's soft and serene, buoyantly level, precision-true to the course you set.

Why? Because every Buick is ride-engineered like no other car in the world—blessed with a combination of ride developments found in no other car at any price.

We could name a baker's dozen of those features.

We could tell you that only in a Buick can you get a massive X-member frame for bed-rock solidity—plus big coil springs on all four wheels for constant and balanced cushioning—plus a full-length torque-tube drive to steady your ride like a deep keel steadies a cruiser.

And we could tell you how an ingenious front-end geometry gives you sports-car "cornering," and how the specially calibrated shock absorbers and the extra-wide Safety-Ride rims smooth out road roughness, control sway and swerve, check "heel-over" and roll—even how Dynaflo adds a sweet smoothness to the whole ride.

But—why tell you all this when we have a Buick ready to show you what a ride can really be?

Visit us soon—this week, for sure—and try the great travel that's helping to send Buick sales soaring to all-time best-seller highs.

"Where are you going with my Chrysler?"

He's like any normal husband with a new Chrysler in the family. He's learning why more wives "borrow" it than any other car!

It seems that once a wife or husband gets to know the ease and control of Chrysler's Full-time Power steering, any semi-power steering feels clumsy and heavy-handed. They both prefer Chrysler's smoother-acting Power Brakes . . . and the alive feeling of unlimited power in Chrysler's great new V8 engines! They like the utter smoothness and silence of PowerFlite Automatic Drive . . . and most of all they enjoy being seen and admired in America's most smartly different car!

Now two Chryslers would really keep a family like this happy. Nevertheless, they'd be the first to tell you that one is a thousand times better than none at all. That's why we urge you to come in for a personal look-see, and a drive.

It's a truly wonderful experience. And . . . Sir or Madam . . . we suggest you bring your spouse!

MR. AND MRS. WARREN L. BENSKEN

A Jacksonville girl, Miss Suzanne Sanderson, daughter of Mrs. Alene Sanderson of Glasgow and J. D. Sanderson of Peoria, became the bride on May 8 of Warren Lloyd Bensken, son of Mrs. Harriet Bensken of Decatur.

The single ring ceremony was performed in the afternoon at the Glasgow Christian church by the pastor, Rev. Charles Lettze. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Glenna Glossop was the bride's only attendant. Gerald Cassens attended the bridegroom as best man. Rex Stein and Ted Fairburn served as ushers.

The bride's formal gown was fashioned from imported brocade white silk with the very full skirt falling in train. The fitted bodice was a high rounded neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. From a white halo headpiece her veil of sheer illusion, edged in lace, fell finger-length. She carried a bride's bouquet of white roses centered with a corsage of pink roses.

Miss Glossop wore mint green net in ballerina length and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. The little flower girl, Carla Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cooper of Winchester, wore a yellow organza dress. The ring bearer, Danny Arthalony, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arthalony of Jacksonville, was formally dressed also.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sanderson wore navy blue with matching color accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue also with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Reception At Church

Right after the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church where the decorated bride's cake was served to the guests. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Dale Lybarger of Roseville; Mrs. Forrest Ryan of Springfield; Mrs. Rodger Fundel of Glasgow.

When the couple left for their honeymoon in the southern states the bride was wearing a pink suit with white accessories. They are now making their home at 311 North Prairie street in Jacksonville.

The bride is a graduate of the Winchester high school and is employed at the Illinois Telephone company in Jacksonville. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Atwood high school, served with the Navy for four years, graduated from the Central Radio and Television School at Kansas City, Mo. and is now employed at the local radio station, WLDS.

THE SPORT OF QUEENS—Another generation in the royal family appears to be getting a taste for horse trials as young Prince Charles listens to his mother, Queen Elizabeth, at Great Park, Windsor, England. The prince is learning the finer points.

KEEPING A WEATHER-EYE—This 15-foot stainless steel and plexiglass globe will be the largest weather forecasting device in the country. STAR CAGERS

EXCEPT for the fact that they're animals, these residents of the Belle Isle zoo, in Detroit, come up with some very human expressions, don't you think? For example, bird at left might say, "So you think you got troubles?" At top right, one might overhear, "She's not my type, either." Can't you just imagine the family scene at right? It goes, "Out late with the boys again, were you?"

Democrats Find New Hurler For Today's Capital Hill Contest

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington's Democratic Baseball players, undefeated in the seven-year history of the only "World Series" the Capital has seen since 1933, take on the perennial Republican challengers Tuesday with a brand new pitcher on the firing line.

He's Rep. Torbert MacDonald, a freshman House member from Massachusetts. MacDonald, who was 38 Monday, is a Harvard man.

Dodgers Edge Cards 5-4 In 9th On Robinson's Hit

BROOKLYN (AP)—After twice failing to lay down a sacrifice bunt, in the ninth inning, Jackie Robinson swung away and slammed a home run into the left field seats Monday night to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 victory over St. Louis and hand little Luis Arroyo his first defeat of the season.

It was the fifth home run of the year for Robinson and only the fifth hit given up by the Latin lefty in the game. But it came after Gil Hodges had drawn Arroyo's sixth walk to open the final frame.

The Cardinal rookie, who has won six decisions, showed signs of weakness at various stages of the game, but Manager Harry Walker—who had called on 22 pitchers in the first four games of this series—each time decided to stick with the 5-8 Arroyo after three strokes to the mound for a conference.

His last walk to the mound came after Arroyo had walked Hodges.

St. Louis had given the southpaw a 4-1 lead within five innings and it looked like that would be just enough after he survived a two-run Dodger sixth. PeeWee Reese, who had two of the Brooklyn hits, opened that frame with his third homer. The other run came home on Duke Snider's double, a fly out and an infield out.

Eddie Robinson Hits Two Homers; Yankees Defeat Senators 7-5

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (AP)—Eddie Robinson, the "forgotten" first baseman of the New York Yankees, hammered a pair of two-run homers and Mickey Mantle hit another, powering the Yankees to a 7-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers Monday.

Mantle opened the Yankee ninth by driving the ball over the screen in dead centerfield.

All Yankee runs resulted from homers—with Billy Hunter and Gil McDougald hitting solo shots.

The victory pushed the Yankees 4½ games ahead of Cleveland and 5 games up on third place Chicago.

The 34-year-old Robinson, given a chance to play full time when both Bill Skowron and Joe Collins were forced out of the lineup due to injury or illness, hit his seventh and eighth homers to help rookie Johnny Kucks to his fourth straight win.

Kucks was touched for 11 hits before being taken out in the ninth. Jim Konstanty came on to put out the fire after Jim Delsing had clipped Kucks for a two-run double.

Tigers outfielder Al Kaline hit his ninth homer with none on in the seventh to stretch his hitting streak to 14 games. He has hit safely in 45 of Detroit's 49 games.

up is former Rep. Don (Fireball) Wheeler, who pitched a no hitter as the congressional Democrats won, 2-1, last year. Wheeler's replacement in Congress is unlikely to replace him on the baseball field. The name: Mrs. Iris Faircloth Blitch.

MacDonald will be opposed by the GOP co-manager, Rep. Glenn Davis of Wisconsin, who pitched a creditable five hit game last year and was leading 1-0 with two out and nobody on base in the last half of the last inning.

At that point, the Democrats put together a walk, a double and a 360-foot triple by Rep. Gene McCarthy of Minnesota to preserve their winning streak.

The five-inning game, sponsored by the Washington Evening Star, is played annually at Griffith Stadium for the benefit of the newspaper's summer camp fund. This year's game is a night affair, set for 8:30 p.m., EDT.

As usual, the rival managers were predicting victory. Rep. Sid Herlong of Florida, the veteran Democratic boss, said: "They've still got to catch us."

Davis and Rep. Thor Tollefson of Washington, who'll be playing third base, are co-managers of the Republicans. Each expressed confidence. Sooner or later, they said, the law of averages will work in their favor.

The teams played their annual spring "exhibition" game at Daytona Beach, Fla., last April, giving up after five innings with the score tied at 8-8. The game was called off then "because of fatigue."

One thing is for sure: The two teams are evenly matched in age. The starting Republican team averages out to 43.2 years, the Democratic nine to 43.4.

8 Golfers Qualify For National Open In Chicago Play

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, Cog Hill Country Club pro, led a field of eight qualifiers Monday for the National Open Golf championship with a 72-71-143 on the rain-drenched Lincolnshire course.

Oliver went one under par 73 on his first round and then dropped two under on the afternoon round.

Ernie Ball of Oak Park, Ill., finished second with a 72-73-145.

The original field of 90 starters seeking the qualifying positions was cut to 67 by the final 18 holes.

Jim Shaw of Mishawaka, Ind., had the best round of the day with a 70 on the final 18 but could do no better than 149 after a poor first round. His total was good for No. 3 alternate.

Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill., was the only amateur to qualify with a 73-74-147.

The qualifiers:
Ed Oliver, St. Andrews, Ill., 72-71-143
Ernie Ball, Oak Park, Ill., 72-73-145
George Keyes, Chicago, 75-71-146
Bill Ogden, Chicago, 73-73-146
Jack Fleck, Davenport, Iowa, 73-73-146

Report Orioles Sign Catcher For $40,000 Bonus

BOSTON (AP)—The Daily Record said Monday Tommy Gastall, Boston University's great all-around athlete, has signed a bonus contract with Baltimore and will join the Orioles in Chicago Tuesday.

Gastall, a catcher sought by about every major league club, signed for a bonus of "about $40,000," the Record said.

Gastall hit .390 for the Terriers this season and is considered the finest catching prospect in the greater Boston area in many years.

Gastall, who stands 6-2 and weighs 190, lives in Fall River. During his four years at Boston University, he set a school record by winning 12 major letters. He graduated Sunday.

A tremendous football quarterback, he captained the B.U. eleven last season and later played in the North-South game. The Detroit Lions selected him in the National Football League draft.

Gastall captained both the baseball and basketball teams. He was a star forward on the hoop team.

Northwestern Gets New Coach

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ray Ragelis, basketball coach at Lake Forest College, Monday was appointed assistant basketball coach at Northwestern University.

Ragelis, 26, was a basketball star at Northwestern. He will succeed Bernie Brady, who resigned to become head coach at Maine Township High School, Des Plaines.

3 HOLES-IN-ONE AT MONTH OLD COURSE
ALHAMBRA, Calif. (AP)—A month ago the new municipal golf course opened. In the first week three local players got holes-in-one on the 120-yard eighth hole.

The club's assistant pro, Emil Scodeller, remarked at the time that was "almost impossible" and would never happen again in a million years.

Sunday he got a hole-in-one on the same hole.

"And it was a poorly hit ball," he said. "I hit a much better one on the ninth but only got a par."

FAN BREEZES BY BILL MERRIS

Tryouts begin Monday, June 13, in Springfield at the annual Jack Rossiter baseball school. The camp is open free to all boys 16 years of age or over. The annual school gets under way at 9:30 on the morning of the 13th and continues through the months of June and July. Boys planning on attending are asked to bring their own shoes and gloves. Although there is no charge to attend the school boys must pay their own living expenses while in Springfield. However, in case they sign with the Washington club, the expenses will be refunded.

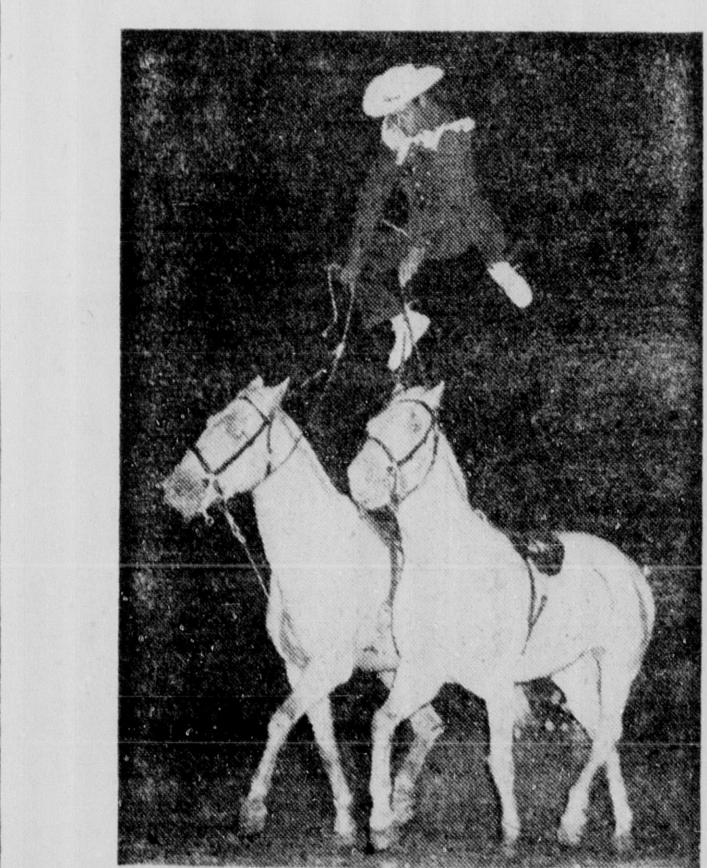

Another local high school senior has indicated he will go on to college next fall. Joe Shanahan, basketball and baseball letterman at Routt, will head for Champaign and the University of Illinois come next September. Joe was one of the area's best small performers on the basketball court this past winter and pitched and played shortstop on the baseball team this spring.

When manager Harry Walker and the Cardinals dipped into the Rochester ranks to come up with catcher Nelson Burbrink it may turn out to be the first move of several to follow. "The Hat" is probably high on several of his minor leaguers which should make the Rochester players quite happy. His first move was to call on his coach at the International League to follow him. Walker made Lou Kahn his first base coach.

By bringing up the 33-year-old Burbrink, Walker passed up such outstanding prospects as Hal Smith at Houston and the Rand brothers at Omaha and Rochester. However, he undoubtedly made the move because any catcher he brought up would be no better than a second stringer behind hard hitting Bill Sarni.

There was some talk the new Cardinal boss would call up outfielder Allie Clark from his brother's Rochester club. The right-handed batter had previous trials with American League clubs. However, the move must have died out with the trading of Del Rice to Milwaukee for Pete Whisenant. Whisenant gives the Cards six outfielders.

ROMAN RIDING AT RODEO

"Two hours of spills and thrills" is the slogan of the McKinley Rodeo and Wild West Show which will appear at the fairgrounds Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, June 14-15. The company, with its 100 head of livestock and 40 people, will come here under the auspices of the Jacksonville Jaycees and net proceeds will go to help provide physical therapy for the crippled.

A special part of the program is the Roman riding featuring Jimmy Rogers of Tulsa, Okla.

Kaline Pressing Kuenn For American Bat Title In American Bat Race

By SHELTON SAKOWITZ
NEW YORK (AP)—Young Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers, who seems to thrive on hitting streaks, is hot on the heels of teammate Harvey Kuenn in the American League batting race Monday.

The 20-year-old outfielder, boasting a 13-game hitting skein, is swinging at a .374 clip—only four points behind Kuenn, who tops the league with .378. Figures include games through Sunday.

Kaline has been hitting in streaks since the season began. The former bonus player hit safely in the Tigers' first 14 games and after being stopped, he picked right up again to compile an 11-game streak. Then came a six-game skein and on May 24 he embarked on his current streak.

Legion Nine Cops Pair: Trip Bluffs 17-3, Dosh 11-0

Kaline gained ground on Kuenn, who saw limited service during the past week because of a pulled thigh muscle. With 13 hits in 29 at bats, Kaline increased his average 13 points, while Kuenn added one point on 2-for-5.

Kansas City's Vic Power remained third at .335, but suffered a 19-point decline on 8-for-31. Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators lifted his average 14 points to .314 and advanced to fourth. The New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle lost 23 points and fell from fourth to fifth with a .306 mark.

Fleet-footed Richie Ashburn continued to hold down the top spot in the National League despite a week which saw the average tumble 34 points to .358. Ashburn connected seven times in 31 at bats.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella displaced Don Mueller of the New York Giants as runner-up in the batting derby with .346 average.

Alton Dominoes At Arenzville

The first appearance of the Alton Dominoes in Arenzville will highlight the week's activities at Sam Batis Park this week. They play the Arenzville Merchants Sunday, June 12, in a game starting at 7:30.

Other activity during the week will find the Merchants entertaining Murrayville today in an 8 o'clock game. On Wednesday the Little Boys League will have a final practice game. Uniforms will be issued after the game. Friday night will find the Arenzville Girl softball teams back in action as they square off with each other in a game scheduled for 8 o'clock.

2 Local Ladies Top Patty Berg

Two Jacksonville Country Club ladies, competing in National Golf Day, produced net scores lower than that of National Champion Patty Berg to win medals of recognition in this national event. Jack Bailis and Mrs. William Casler both bettered the efforts of Miss Berg who scored a 77 at San Francisco in competition with lady golfers all over the country.

All proceeds of the tournament, sponsored by Life Magazine, are contributed to the American Red Cross and the National Golf Fund. Jacksonville ladies, both winners and losers, who participated are to be congratulated on their contribution to these worthy causes.

Last Night's Games Postponed

Last night's Nichols Park softball and the Elks' Boy's League programs were called off due to the rainy weather.

In yesterday afternoon's Elks' program the Oilers lost to the Sports 12-3 and the Indians defeated the Eagles 8-1 in Texas League play. In American League activity the Red Sox edged the Yanks 8-7.

The 6:15 Twilight League game between the Cards and Dodgers was not played. It has been rescheduled for Friday evening.

Sandy Amoros Likes Brooks To Finish First, Giants Third

By BARD LINDERMAN
BROOKLYN (AP)—With a borrowed piece of Roy Campanella's chewing tobacco in his jaw and using Joe Black as his "mouthpiece," smiling Sandy Amoros Monday picked his Brooklyn Dodgers for first, the Giants for third and wished how he could play in the majors 50 years.

"It takes me 50 years to learn English," spoofed the Cuban outfielder who is currently very hot property.

"Me gusta jugar a la pelota," said Sandy rapidly in his mother tongue, admitting of course: "To play the ball is pleasing to me."

On the National League pennant picture Sandy was just as rapid and just as certain in his thinking. "Dodgers win. I zink so. Giants third, mebbe fourth."

Sandy thus qualified as the first baseball man in 1955 to recognize the Giants for dead and he did it in both English and Spanish, for emphasis.

It was Amoros' prerogative, for he has played a major role in putting the Dodgers atop the heap and 12 games up on the heavy-footed Giants. Sandy's early-season figures, which are multi-lingual, speak for themselves: Batting .330; 27 runs batted in with six homers, 12 doubles and 3 triples. He's among the top 10 hitters and his 60 hits is also among the league's best. His doubles output is second highest.

In the past five seasons Brooklyn has had 15 different men play the left field position. Not since Andy Pafko in 1952 have the Dodgers had one man regularly in the spot. Now, with young Amoros, the club feels secure in left.

Sandy, a keen-eyed wrist-hitting left-hander complements a lineup of power hitters.

Cuba, he is one of six children but, he says, "the only ball player in the family." Sandy helps with the support of the family for his father, is dead.

Sandy is not surprised at his early showing. He said he intends to keep it up.

"Like all ball players," he said, "I zink I'm real good."

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—The contract settlement between Ford Motor and the CIO helped send the stock market to a new record high Monday.

Prices were moderately higher when the labor agreement was announced in early afternoon. Almost at once, leading auto and steel stocks moved ahead, taking a good number of other issues along with them. At the close, gains ranged to nearly three points.

The advance sent the Associated Press average of 60 stocks up 60 cents to a new high of $167.20. The former top was $166.80, set on April 28.

The industrial component of the average gained $1.40 for a new high of $225.60. The rails lost 20 cents and the utilities were unchanged.

There were 564 advances and 365 declines among the 1,186 issues traded. Eighty-nine stocks hit new highs for the year while 11 touched new lows.

Most analysts are forecasting further advances, but emphasize that the market will continue to be highly selective. In the past, that has meant sharp rises by a handful of issues while the bulk of the list remained within a narrow range.

Meanwhile, the market faces a new uncertainty: steelworkers open their negotiations Tuesday.

Volume Monday totaled 2,560,000 shares compared with 2,590,000 on Friday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—The corporate bond market climbed irregularly Monday as volume increased. But U. S. government bonds declined.

Many convertible obligations and medium-grade railroads were strong as "Big Board" volume jumped to $5,100,000 par value. It was the heaviest trading since March 3, when sales totaled $5,270,000. On Friday volume amounted to $4,810,000.

Investment quality corporates fluctuated narrowly in selective dealings with demand centered on the volatile convertible and income bonds. Industrials were mostly higher; utilities mixed.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS

CHICAGO (P)—(USDA) — Estimated salable livestock receipts for Tuesday are 10,000 hogs, 7,500 cattle and 2,000 sheep.

CORN, LARD ONLY COMMODITIES WITH GAINS MONDAY

CHICAGO (P)—Corn and lard stood alone on the higher side of the market at the Board of Trade Monday. Of the rest, soybeans were weakest, the July contract being an exception with a last minute buying rush edging it into the plus column.

Principle deterrent to any great buying urge was the substantial increase in carlot receipts at terminal markets over the weekend. Good rainfall over the soybeans producing area combined with glowing crop prospects to knock as much as two cents a bushel off Friday's closing quotations.

Wheat finished 1/4-1/2 cents lower, corn 1/2-3/4 higher, oats 1/2-1/4 lower and rye 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher. Soybeans closed unevenly 2 cents lower to 1/2 higher and lard was 5 to 22 cents a hundredweight higher.

July wheat received a little buying support on the basis of rain in the southwestern breadbasket which interfered with harvesting operations. There also were some trade reports of disappointing yields in early harvested fields.

For the most part, however, the wheat trade felt the burden of its continuing heavy carryover, estimated at around a billion bushels. The forthcoming government wheat crop forecast on Friday produced some anticipatory selling.

While corn sold higher virtually the whole day, it had an occasional sinking spell which carried all contracts to new seasonal low marks. Authorization for Spain to buy more than a million bushels of corn was an encouraging note.

Arrival of 131 cars of oats on the Chicago market over the weekend helped depress that grain which generally followed the pattern of wheat.

In soybeans most of the emphasis was placed on prospects for the new crop. Some private talk has it looking like a record production. This was enough to wring all deliveries beyond July for two cents and drop them to new seasonal lows.

Lard had the advantage of a strong market for hogs and some of the highest prices there since September. Prices generally were 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds up, including lard types.

Soybean oil shared lard's advance with gains of 7 to 10 cents.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (P)—Light receipts of hogs over the weekend shot prices 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds higher in all departments Monday.

A new high mark since September was established at $20.25.

Cattle were steady to 75 cents higher and sheep steady to 50 up. The estimated 9,000 hogs on sale compared with 14,000 in last week's initial session on Tuesday following the holiday. Good clearance resulted and 3,500 head were accounted for by outside order buyers.

Choice butcher weight hogs generally ranged from $17.00 to $20.00. A few decks went to $20.10 and $20.15 and one deck averaging 203 pounds merited the peak. Sows took $12.50 to $16.25 and a few lights at $16.50.

Good to prime steers and yearlings brought $18.75 to $25.50 and comparable heifers $18.50 to $25.00. One load of prime steers touched $26.00. Utility and commercial cows were worth $11.50 to $14.50 and similar grades of bulls $14.00 to $16.00. Vealers grading choice ranged downward from $24.00. An estimated 18,000 cattle and 400 calves were on sale.

Fed California and native spring lambs brought $24.50 a hundred pounds and below while choice fed shorn old-crop types were no better than $20.50. Ewes were $6.00 and under. An estimated 3,500 sheep were in the sales pens.

JAPAN, KOREA TENSION EASES

TOKYO (P)—Tension between Japan and the Republic of Korea has eased and there no longer is a threat of an open diplomatic break. A reliable government source said today at least one Cabinet member and several other influential Japanese leaders last week assured Korean diplomats here Japan was not contemplating signing any sort of official agreement with the Communist government of North Korea.

HEADS CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

THIRTY infantry battalions—perhaps 20,000 men—pressed an attack on the private army of Gen. Tran Van Soai in west Viet Nam, after a series of rebel raids on Bassac river ferry posts. Soai's men were estimated to number more than 5,000.

At the same time the government got reinforcements from Lam Thanh Nguyen, another general of the Hoa Hao religious sect. He turned over his 2,500 troops to the national army.

Gen. Tran Van Don, the army's deputy chief of staff, said two Hoa Hao companies totaling 600 men surrendered with their arms today near Caivon, Soai's captured capital. Hundreds of others were reported to have laid down their arms at the start of the offensive Sunday.

Diem ordered the offensive while parleys were still in progress to bring all the Hoa Hao troops into the national forces.

FREE BABY

DETROIT (P)—Willie Robinson stood on a street corner Sunday night and offered to give away his 9-month-old baby daughter, Darlene, police reported. He was held for investigation.

Passersby told police Robinson tried for more than an hour to get some one to take the baby. Police returned the baby to her mother.

ADMITTS PASSING PHONY CHECKS

CHICAGO (P)—Police say Henry Pege, 30, of Chicago has admitted passing six worthless checks in Chicago, seven in East St. Louis, Ill., and six in St. Louis.

Peggy was arrested Saturday after trying to pass a phony $83 check in a Southwest Side grocery store, police said.

Police said Peggy has been charged in East St. Louis with the interstate transportation of stolen checks.

Outbreaks of the forest tent caterpillar generally occur at ten-year intervals.

MOOSE SPONSOR BIKE SAFETY LANE

Two sisters got their bikes marked with a strip of reflective tape, and received a copy of the official bicycle safety manual, when they appeared at the Morgan street side of the new gym Saturday morning. The Jacksonville Moose club sponsored the campaign which is designed to cut down the hazards of bicycle riding, particularly at night.

The girls were Kay, (left), and Sheri Godfrey, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Godfrey, 335 Gladstone.

"In proposing our plan to the union and in pressing for its acceptance," Bugas said, "We have assumed a grave responsibility. We are undertaking this responsibility with complete confidence. We have full faith in the ability of our company to progress and prosper in the competitive atmosphere of a free and vigorous economy."

Cash benefits under the Ford plan could run as high as $25 a week, supplementing state benefits which vary considerably between states but average just over $25 per week for the nation as a whole.

It was reported that the last major point toward achieving the Ford agreement involved the percentage application of the Ford plan. Originally the company payments for a worker would have been a proportion of local community wage rates. The UAW protested this would mean extremely low payments in some areas, particularly in the South. Ford agreed to relate the proportion to Ford wages.

The Ford agreement also called for a six cent hourly "improvement factor" raise for employees in each of the three years, and more liberal pension, holiday, vacation and insurance provisions.

The contract also continues a cost-of-living clause, gearing wage rates to living cost changes but with an arrangement more favorable to the union.

WASHINGTON (P)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday that Dr. John P. Peters, senior medical professor at Yale University, was fired illegally on loyalty charges from a post as government health consultant.

In its 7-2 decision clearing Peters, the court avoided passing upon the constitutional issue of whether government employees may be ousted as security risks on the basis of secret evidence.

The opinion, written by Chief Justice Warren, held the old senior Loyalty Review Board stepped outside its authority in finding "reasonable doubt" as to Peters' loyalty. Peters had been cleared twice by lower boards.

Justices Black and Douglas voted with the majority but said in separate opinions that they favored passing upon constitutional questions. Douglas spoke bitterly against using "faceless informers" in security cases, contending this violates the Constitution.

Justices Reed and Burton, in a dissent, upheld the Peters' dismissal.

HUNDREDS OF REBELS GIVE UP TO DIEM

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (P)—Rebel Hoa Hao troops are surrendering by the hundreds under the hammering of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's national army, government sources said today.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and other top officials were at Moscow Airport to greet party chief Nikita S. Krushchev, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan on their arrival from Belgrade.

En route home the Soviet bosses stopped in Sofia, Bulgaria, and Bucharest, Romania.

Moscow radio Sunday broadcast a communique saying Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Romania had approved the agreement on "active coexistence" Bulganin signed last week in Belgrade with Yugoslav President Tito.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
The Washington administration is clearly pointing at two major objectives for the time between now and the projected Big Four conference.

One is to be thoroughly prepared, in agreement with Britain and France, on the issues which will develop.

The other is to avoid a general public let down which might follow too high hopes.

The announcement of a Big Three foreign ministers' conference June 16 in New York, prior to talks with Russia's Molotov at San Francisco, emphasizes the first: Numerous official statements echoed by members of Congress and climaxed by the Dulles speech at Columbia, S. C. Sunday, are evidence of the importance attached to the second.

Western unity, as displayed at the Berlin last year and in the ratification of Western European Union this spring, is undoubtedly responsible for Russia's effort to obtain a lull in the cold war at this time.

Dulles Doubts Talks Will Ease Tensions

In an apparent move to play down importance of the meeting, he said it might serve "to identify the present causes of tension and set a course which may lead to eliminating threats to peace and freedom."

Dulles' remarks contrasted strikingly with those of Vice President Nixon who last Wednesday told a Chicago gathering: "This conference could be the world's last chance...to avoid a catastrophic war."

"The question it may answer," said Nixon, "is whether negotiated peace is possible or whether the dangers of nuclear war is to hang over us for generations to come."

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

THE STORY: Unwittingly Private Detective Michael Shayne helped Jack Bristow escape arrest for murder. Later Tim Rourke, a reporter, made Bristow's body under the bed in the apartment of Lucy Hamilton, Shayne's secretary.

XIII

SHAYNE heard a car pass below in the alley, and carried the body to the fire escape to wait on the landing until Rourke returned with no lights.

Then he carried his burden down swiftly, thrust it in the back seat and got in beside the reporter.

"Where we taking him, Mike?" Rourke asked as he drove.

"There's a girl in a motel out that way who was disappointed tonight when her husband didn't meet her in front of a house on 18th Street as he'd arranged to. If Jack is the man, she may as well know the worst now as later."

He settled back and lit a cigarette and related his meeting with the hungry girl who called herself Mrs. Peter Smith.

Timothy Rourke divested himself of a non-committal "U-m-m," drove on out the boulevard at a moderate speed until Shayne gestured ahead to a tourist court that now stood dark and silent.

"Cabin No. 6," he directed. "You stay back and bring him in when I tell you to. Pull the blanket down from his face so she sees it before she has a chance to get set."

He got out and went to the door of the cabin and rapped lightly. The headlights behind him outlined his figure clearly, and he saw the girl's face peering at him from behind the window after a moment. He knocked again, heard the key turning inside and the door opened a crack. The girl's thin voice, expressing utter defeat, floated out to him through the crack:

"Give me a chance to get back in bed before you turn on the light." Bare feet sped across the floor and the bedsprings creaked. Shayne pushed the door open and flipped the light switch. She cringed away from him in the bed with the covers pulled up tightly about her chin. "What'll you do if I scream?"

"Slap some sense into you," said Shayne flatly. "I've got your husband outside. You want to see him?"

She flung the covers back and started to leap out of bed, showing her body clothed only in a white silk slip, and Shayne gestured her back, saying gruffly, "Wait right there. I'll bring him in to you."

He turned in the doorway and nodded to Timothy Rourke, stepped aside to study the girl's expression with fierce intensity when the reporter entered carrying the blanket-wrapped body with pallid face exposed to the bright overhead light.

AT the first moment, Shayne knew he had guessed wrong, and he had it in him to be almost glad that the corpse wasn't her man even though it dashed his hopes for a fast conclusion to the case.

The look of eager expectation on her face changed to curiosity and terror as she sank back on the pillow stifling a moan and shaking her head wildly. "Not That's not him. I never saw him before. Is he . . . dead?"

Shayne shrugged and told her, "Sorry to bother you, but we hoped you could identify him. Look again, Miss," he urged. "Look at him carefully now you know he isn't your husband. Will you swear you never saw him before?"

She wet her lips and forced her gaze to rest on Bristow's features. She began shaking her head decidedly, then slowly a puzzled look crept into her eyes. She regarded him more intently, breathing, "He does look sort of familiar at that. I don't know. I'd swear I never knew him in my life, but . . . I . . . don't . . . just know. It's funny. Maybe I've seen his picture somewhere."

"He's from New Orleans," Shayne helped her. "Does the name Jack Bristow mean anything to you?"

For just an instant, he thought he saw a flash of recognition, of comprehension, on her face. If it had been there at all, she had swiftly gained control of herself and he knew he would get no more from her.

She shook her head definitely and said, "No. I guess now I was mistaken about ever seeing even his picture."

HE told her, "I think you're lying. Not about him being your husband. I accept that. But I do believe you know who he is . . . something about him. And you'd better tell me." His voice became harsh with anger: "Two people have been murdered tonight . . . and the killer is still on the town. I think you can tell me something about him. You're inviting death yourself if you don't. Give it to me now. I'll see you're protected, but no one can protect you if you don't."

She shook her head stubbornly, compressing her lips. "Like I told you, I just got here tonight. I don't know anything about any killings in Miami. I swear I don't."

Shayne shrugged and turned away. "All right. If you decide to talk . . . call me. The name is Michael Shayne, and the number's in the book." He went out and got under the steering wheel.

"Where to now, mastermind?" asked Rourke mockingly. "Not a single bright idea," said Shayne savagely. "Except to get rid of that cold meat in the back seat as fast as we can."

College Speaker Tells Modern Women's Role In Changing World

"There is no denying that men are stronger. Pound for pound they have always had more force and energy. They can still win at tennis and drive their golf balls farther than women. But in our society strength is no longer of such economic or social advantage. Technology, electricity, machines and gadgets, power steering, have given women as long a reach and as powerful a punch as men."

State President Of War Dads Ends Official Visits

The Illinois State President of the American War Dads, and Mrs. William Fanning have returned to their home in Jacksonville after an eastern tour of the state where President Fanning has been making official visits to the various War Dad and Auxiliary chapters in the areas.

On June 1 an all day and evening meeting was held at the YWCA at Danville honoring both state and national presidents. A tour of the VAWS hospital there proved most interesting. An exhibit was on display of articles sent from the different chapters in the state to be given to the veterans. The articles included robes, foot scarves, blankets for wheel chair patients, materials to be used in the hospital workshop, reading matter and other articles. The display was good proof of the War Dads and Auxiliary's job to help make a veterans stay in the hospital more pleasant.

The Auxiliary gives many hours of volunteer service, visiting and working with the veterans on various projects. Other chapters visited over the weekend by the state and national official were at Albion, Grayville, Robinson and Harrisburg.

STARLIGHT RINK

Those are the words of Dr. Kate Hevner Mueller, Professor of Education at Indiana University, who addressed the MacMurray College commencement audience Sunday afternoon in Annie Merner chapel. "Educating Women For A Changing World" was the subject of the prominent educator, who drew a conclusion that in the last analysis the real problem of women is the attitude of men toward them. "The task of educating our women in this changing world is actually the task of educating our men," Dr. Mueller asserted.

Sixty-five members of the graduating class received diplomas at largely attended commencement exercises. "How does the educated woman function in this new and different, this rapidly changing world?", the speaker asked. "In this most difficult of all transition periods for women, these 1950's and 60's and 70's, when all the aspects of our daily life are changing more than we can realize, what are young women called upon to do?"

Women's Obligations "In our society, with its wave of immigration, it has always been the function of the younger, the native born generations, to interpret our American culture to their elders. The new generations of young women, and especially young women whose parents have provided them with educational opportunities, will be facing a three-fold obligation. It will call for imagination, ingenuity, tact, and perseverance, all those especially feminine virtues, and it is guaranteed to keep them hard at work, out of mischief for at least the next 20 years.

"First, it is the duty of all educated men and women to maintain our society as a healthy environment for all the individuals within it, especially for the economically underprivileged, and for the less fortunately endowed. Society must offer the opportunity to every individual for continuous personal growth and development, for giving and receiving, for working and resting, for creating and enjoying Cultural Heritages.

"Second, this must be done efficiently, for we are after all in the age of technology. Things happen, if they happen at all with an intense and furious smoothness. We must therefore make all possible use of the past. We cannot afford to lose any of the magnificent thinking which lies in the long history of our culture. We need all the science, the philosophy, all the poetry, the fine arts, music, creative ideas, the humanism which is our most important heritage. They are preserved only in the colleges such as this, only in the minds of men and women who have been educated as these young women are educated. We must cherish and use them as never before.

"And efficiency demands also that we must use everyone, every man and every woman. Our economy for competing successfully against other nations and against the forces of depression and idleness and trade stagnation, demands the productive capacity of our women, but even more than this our cultural and artistic heritage demands the full participation of total families, the mothers and fathers and children.

Need Flexible Society Finally, the third function of the educated woman is to keep our society not tight and rigid, but free and loose and flexible. In the modern world of rapid shifts and changes, success depends on our adaptability, both as individuals and nations. Our minds have received this liberal arts education in order to make us truly free and liberal. Free, that is, to see the future without prejudice, to see it in terms of the past, all the past, not selected portions of the past, free to observe why our world is as it is today, to understand why some parts of it are as good and others evil, free and wise enough to change, to manipulate, to reconstruct a new and better future world for all people."

TINY HEATER IS HOT ITEM—The Fiesta drive-in restaurant, in Milwaukee, Wis., is the first such place located in the cold zone of the U. S. to be equipped to operate on a year-round basis. Secret is those "boxes" extending over the restaurant's 50 drive-in bays. Inside each is a new heater that can warm up both patrons and carhops who attend them. This is by means of tiles only 1 1/2 by 2 inches in size. They are porous, and by an infrared process each can throw upwards of 1600 degrees of heat against an object without heating the air between. A German invention, it has been used throughout Europe for such purposes as cooking, heating factories and melting ice. A license has just been granted to a Cleveland, Ohio stove company to manufacture and distribute the heaters.

AEC Head Says No Evidence Atomic Tests Causes Harm

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Lewis P. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said today it seems an "act of irresponsibility" for anyone to claim radiation from atomic tests is poisoning the air and guaranteeing "future generations of monsters."

"Actually," he said, "there is no evidence at this time to indicate that our weapons testing . . . has increased radiation levels . . . to an extent which would afford warranty for such extreme statements."

Strauss' remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening session of the annual meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Strauss said, however, "in the event of war involving the indiscriminate use of . . . nuclear weapons—as opposed to limited, controlled testing — the radiation danger to civilian populations would be very great."
